"The Dying Gaul"
by unknown artist.

From cover:
The Lion Monument, Lucerne, Switzerland

It was designed by Bertel Thorvaldsen and begun in 1820-21 by Lukas Ahorn. It commemorates the Swiss Guards who were massacred in 1792 during the French Revolution, when revolutionaries stormed the Tuilleries Palace in Paris, France. Mark Twain praised this sculpture of a mortally-wounded lion, with a broken spear in its side, as "the most mournful and moving piece of stone in the world." I would have to agree, excepting the Dying Gaul (also with a mortal wound in side; see below) and The Pietà (1498-1499) by Michelangelo Buonarroti.

The Domestic Slave Trade of the Southern States

(1904)

Winfield H. Collins, Ph.D.

Crime and Punishment:
 Judgment isn't pretty - either is crime.

Africans and American Indians tortured, roasted and then ate their victims, innocent or guilty.

White people were lynched too.

The death penalty prevents crime.

Cities used to be safe even at night.

No one was lynched for spitting on the sidewalk or littering but almost exclusively for the crimes of rape or murder.

Was every single lynching "just" ...?

Are all court trials today "just" ...?

Who stirs up emotional outrage today for the picture of the crimes for which the perpetrator was lynched...?

- Israel's Wandering: The Skuths, the Saxons, and the Kymry a connected account Tracing the Lost Tribes of Israel into the British Isles (1885) by "Oxonian" [Rev. William Metcalfe Holmes Milner M.A., F.R.G.S., A.V.I., Vicar of the Crown Parish of Sunk Islandor], 156pp., 6x9 pb., 17.50 + P&H.

- The Testimony of the Evangelists: Examined by the Rules of Evidence Administered in Courts of Justice — with an Appendix Containing A History of the Most Ancient Manuscript Copies of the New Testament, and Comparison of Their Text with That of the King James Bible by Constantine Tischendorff — and also A Review of the Trial of Jesus (1874) Simon Greenleaf (Founding Professor of Law, Harvard University, who wrote the Law on Evidence), (with photo and short bio. of Greenleaf and Tischendorff added by the Modern Publisher) - the original work was over 614 pages long. I have extracted several portions, most apropos, and left out about 500 pages of Greenleaf's Harmony of the Gospels and the portion of Notes on the Gospels from his Appendix; I have enlarged the text 12%; c.154pp., + 28pp., intro and photo / about the author, etc.; 6x9 pb., 17.50 + P&H. Greenleaf, a Jew, was challenged by one of his students to apply his own Rules of Evidence to the Gospels; Greenleaf did so and was "converted" as a result of his findings, determining the Gospel accounts to be true.

Concerning Greenleaf's book, Treatise on the Law of Evidence, the London Law Magazine wrote:

"It is no mean honor to America that her schools of jurisprudence have produced two of the first writers and best esteemed legal authorities of this century—the great and good man, Judge [Joseph] Story, and his worthy and eminent associate, Professor [Simon] Greenleaf. Upon the existing Law of Evidence [by Greenleaf], more light has shown from the New World than from all the lawyers who adorn the courts of Europe."

also:

"This [Greenleaf's Testimony of the Evangelists] is one of the greatest, if not the greatest, work on Christian Apologetics ever written. It ends all discussion of the genuineness and authenticity of the Books of the Bible. It should be placed in the hands of every lawyer and minister in the land. We will publish in The Bible Champion, the plea of this great jurist. This will place in the hands of every reader, in compact form, an irrefutable argument with which to meet all assaults upon the Scriptures. We especially solicit every reader to show to the lawyers of their acquaintance this page and solicit their subscription." The Bible Champion (February 1914)

"It [Greenleaf's Testimony of the Evangelists] is the production of an able and profound lawyer, a man who has grown grey in the halls of justice and the schools of jurisprudence; a writer of the highest authority on legal subjects, whose life has been spent in weighing testimony and sifting evidence, and whose published opinions on the rules of evidence are received as authoritative in all the English and American tribunals; for fourteen years the highly respected colleague of the late Mr. Justice [Joseph] Story, and also the honored head of the most distinguished and prosperous school of English law in the world." —North American Review
