from chapter 1:

That museum is our language. There is no word in English, French, or German, which is not older than the oldest of the pyramids, and yet, while we are willing to pay any sum for a scarabee containing the name of Sesostris, which after all tells us very little, we attach hardly any value to words which, if we would only trace them back to their distant source, might teach us lessons of the highest import. It does not matter what language we take or what word we choose; every one of them will carry us back to times when there were as yet no statues, no gems, no coins, no cylinders, no pyramids, not even lacustrian dwellings, stone hammers, or flint-heads. For all these are the workmanship of intelligent beings, and no being can be intelligent without language.

I also discuss this last sentence in my booklet (though I had not read Muller's quote back when I wrote my booklet) fit. My tortures were now exceedingly increased, burning my flesh off my bones by fire; which the tyrant did, by frequent repetitions, after a most cruel manner; insomuch, that through my so very acute pains, I was at last constrained to submit, calling upon God to forgive me, who knows that I never gave the consent of the heart, though I seemingly yielded, by holding up my finger; and that I always abominated them, and their accursed principle of Mahometism, my only trust and confidence being firmly fixed on Him, and in the all-sufficient merits of His only Son Jesus Christ, my Saviour.

I started this massive project 10 years ago and was 3/4 done until other things took priority; just slowly and carefully photocopying the 6-pound original (which cost me $150) was costly, time-consuming, and a tedious chore. The introduction took me about 80 hours to research and write. A less expensive edition is still available (of course, without my illustrated historical biographical introduction) by a different publisher, 8.5x11, Hb., which was printed in 2002, for 55.00 + P&H; which I have stocked for 3 decades (I initially stocked the printing before the 2002 printing, which was in the 1990s). [Gold in 2002 was $310 / oz.; today it is $4,000 / oz. If $75 seems pricey, the $55 of 2002 today would be $709; and thus my edition is underpriced. You may be able to find print on demand from sweat shop companies in India or China, but their quality is poor, their edition won't have the care or extra info of my edition, and you will be supporting the enemies of Christ and Christendom; and the same goes for all the other books that I print. Wing Commander Leonard Young

THE AUTHOR

Educated at Cheltenham College and the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, the Author joined the Royal Engineers in 1919. Three years later he transferred to the Royal Air Force where he remained until his retirement in 1946. He served in the Aircraft carriers Hermes and Eagle in the Home, Mediterranean and China stations. In 1932 he formed the No. 803 Fleet Fighter Squadron. From 1938 to 1940 he commanded No. 50 Bomber Squadron. In 1941 he became Senior Training Officer at Kirkham and Cosford. From 1942 to 1945 he was appointed Flying Accident Investigator, first in Bomber Command and later in India. In the last year of his service he commanded R.A.F. Hakimpet, Secunderabad. During the later years of his service, his thorough investigations and candid comments produced a number of clashes with the authorities. Born in Plymouth early in the century, he is now settled in Somerset where this book has been written.

Upcoming new book; written in 1978, the author, a Canadian mathematics school teacher was removed from his teaching position because of his personal writing that was never brought into the classroom; bookstores that carried the book were boycotted; he said Col. Jack more had boxes of copies of this that he took to a conference in Canada, and customs seized them. the Canadian government threatened the author if he ever reprinted it... well, he has not, but I will inquire if interested. 106pp., 6x9 pb., also includes brief bio and intro on the background of the book, compiled by modern publisher

Inquire SOON if interested.

considering / working on for next time: If interested, inquire or it may not be printed

These first 2 below are actually completed and ready to print in pb. or Hb., if there is enough interest (they have been available plastic comb-bound)

- The History of Ireland from the Earliest Period to the Present Time (1867; 1885 ed.) Martin Haverty; 8.5x11, Hardback 1,162pp., illustrated, chapt on Celtic literature & geography of counties of Ireland (not in 1867 ed.). This is not "Annals of the Kingdom of Ireland, by the Four Masters" (7 vols./4,000pp. rare & very expensive). [Though I do have a few volumes in paperback by another publisher. INQUIRE. Haverty drew directly from The Annals..., gleaned most relevant & from modern editors of The Annals... (Dr. O'Donovan, Prof. Eugene Curry, Rev C.P. Meehan, Dr. R.R. Madden, & other eminent scholars). Haverty's considered finest work on Irish History; entire text intact; contains short history of "The Annals..." & brief biography of The Four Masters, editors & translators (& photos) Haverty, & others who wrote classic works on history of

Ireland (Geoffrey Keating, Villanueva, etc.) written / compiled by Balaicius. INQUIRE if interested

- History of Sweden, Geijer (8.5x11), I will print in a nice Hb. if any are interested; this is a classic.

Maybe I will prepare the first volume or two of this if any are interested; and then I will do the other volumes too.

- Ancient History (1730-1738) Charles Rollin, 4 vol, c.780p./each, Vol 1 (from 1855 London ed. with intro. & biog. from 1829 ed.) Vol 2,3,4 (from latest London ed. c.1900) EXCELLENT! Christian perspective. Extensively quotes Herodotus, Pliny, etc. Quoted extensively by later historians.

- Uncovering the Mysteries of Your Hidden Inheritance; expanded 35th year anniversary Collector's Edition, c.450-500pp., Hb. [If there is enough interest; inquire] fascinating books, glimpses into courage, patience of this great man (his poor theology / misguided altruism notwithstanding) glimpses into minds, natures of those he tried to help.

- The Moral and Intellectual Diversity of Races (Lippincott, Phila, PA, 1856) by Count Joseph Arthur de Gobineau, with Addendum by Dr. Josiah C. Nott, M.D. (famous for medical research) refuting on scientific & Biblical grounds

Gobineau's notion all races descend from Adam (pages 461-512); Gobineau mistakenly believed all came from Adam, but clearly did not believe they were equal. Gobineau's work later retitled, "Inequality of Human Races" (1915) reprinted by various publishers, G. P. Putnam's Sons, etc. 512pp., pb., 28.00 + P&H.
