- Anglo-Israel or the British Nation The Lost Tribes of Israel (1879) Rev. W. H. Poole, 82pp., 7.00 + P&H.

Rev. William H. Poole, LL.D., was a Canadian minister and authored Anglo-Israel or the Saxon Race?: Proved to be the Lost Tribes of Israel (1884; 686pp.) which was presented first as a series of 9 lectures. He gave other lectures and wrote other books, including: Anglo-Israel or The Anglo-Saxon Nation Identified with the Lost Tribes of Israel (1880), Fifty Reasons Why The Anglo-Saxons Are Israelites of the Lost Tribes of the House of Israel, History, The True Key to Prophecy: In Which the Saxon Race is Shown To Be the Lost Tribes of Israel (1880), and The Second Coming of Christ As Taught by Pre-Millenarians, Not Taught in the Bible (1886) Rev. William H. Poole, 96pp., (I can also prepare this one; inquire if interested). His lectures and books were reviewed very favorably by the mainstream media and Christians (and ministers) of all denominations.

For many such reviews in both Christian and regular newspapers, see my

- The Christian-Anglo-Israel Message in the English-Speaking World during the Late 19th and Early 20th Centuries: What the Mainstream Media and Mainstream Preachers Thought of it; (first in a series of booklets) Men like Rev. William Poole,* Edward Hine, Bishop J. H. Allen, held numerous public meetings on how the Anglo-Saxon peoples were the actual lost tribes of Israel. Newspapers frequently announced the meetings--and even attended, giving favorable reviews. Ministers of all denominations also gave their comments. Most all comments and reviews were not only favorable, but praiseworthy, encouraging people to attend and hear the lectures. 88pp., illustrated, 6.00 + P&H (* author of Anglo-Israel or the Saxon Race (1879); reprinted by STM; 688pp. plastic comb bound 30.00 + P&H.

DESCRIPTION

If we are to believe conventional history books, the Southern Cause died on April 9, 1865, with Lee's surrender at Appomattox. As with most mainstream history, however, this belief is not only false, the opposite is true: The Southern Cause is flourishing today like never before! How can this be if the North won the war over a century and a half ago? Just what was and is the Southern Cause? And why were millions of people of all races willing to sacrifice their lives for it? You will find the answer to these questions, as well as discussions on closely associated topics (e.g., the Constitution, nullification, sectionalism, slavery, etc.) in historian Lochlainn Seabrook's one-of-a-kind volume I, Confederate. In this revealing and important work, the award-winning author provides excerpts from the writings, speeches, letters, and poems of some 200 Southerners (mostly former C.S. soldiers), who describe, in their own words, why they seceded from the U.S. and took up arms against their American cousins to the North. For added context Seabrook also includes pertinent writings from Southern women, Southern civilians, Northern civilians, and even several Union veterans, who also supported the momentous campaign that Southerners appropriately referred to as "the bedrock of the Southern Confederacy." Get the facts about the Southern Cause from the only truly reliable source, Confederate veterans—the men who created it and risked their lives for it—in this historically accurate work that preserves an essential and much neglected aspect of genuine American history. Illustrated with rare Confederate photos from the 1860s, I, Confederate includes a preface, introduction, notes, index, and bibliography, and is available in paperback and hardcover. Rev. Hollis Read, A.M. (1802-1887), a missionary of the American Board, in his, The Hand of God In History: or Divine Providence Illustrated In The Extension and Establishment of Christianity Throughout The World (1855), wrote,

All past history is but the unraveling of God's eternal plan respecting our race. The whole course of human events is made finally to subserve this one great purpose (p. 13)....

The Hand of God is discernible in the discovery and first settlement of America.... The time had arrived when God would give enlargement to Zion. For this purpose he had reserved a large and noble continent—a land fitted, by its mighty rivers and lofty mountains, its vast prairies and inexhaustible mineral productions, to be a theatre for more extensive and grand developments of the scheme of redemption than had ever yet transpired (p. 34)....

It was at such a time that the “woman, clothed with the sun, and the moon upon her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars,” having long, and in various ways, been persecuted by the great red dragon, of “seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns on his heads,” had given to her the two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, where she had a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand, two hundred and three score days. And here, free, strong, lofty as the eagle, (our national banner,) she lives and breathes, and moves, stable as our everlasting hills, extensively diffused as our far-reaching rivers, and free as our mountain air (pp. 36,37).... (See Revelation 12.)

...This was the land of promise...God would give to the people of his own choice. Hither he would transplant the “vine” which he had brought out of Egypt. Here it should take root and send out its boughs unto the sea, and its branches unto the river (p. 38).... [See Genesis 49:22 and Ezekiel 17.] ...when I speak of stern principles which originated at the first settlement of this country...of the admirable institutions of our forefathers...of our high pretensions to freedom, intelligence and piety, I bear in mind that we have proved ourselves unworthy of our noble inheritance, and recreant to our good professions. But I would look beyond these clouds, which ever and anon intercept our vision, to those better things reserved for the second Israel (p. 50)....

We might here trace the agency of a series of wars which subdued many a barbarous nation and gave nationality to Germany; which kept at bay the overwhelming power of Rome, and which opened the way for the establishment of the chosen race in the British Isles (p. 583)....

The Anglo-Saxons are at the present epoch of the world the chosen race through whom the great work of human progress is carried forward. They are the modern Israel, the chosen arm of the Lord for the elevating and blessing the nations of the earth. They are, as directed and used by the Almighty arm, controlling the destinies of the world (p. 682)....

...should the idea recently broached by a reverend lecturer in England (Rev. J. Wilson) prove to possess as much truth as...interest, viz.... these...Anglo-Saxons are none other than the...descendants of Abraham ...the “Ten Lost Tribes,” this will cast a new charm over the history of this extraordinary race, and confirm our already sanguine hopes that this people, whom we have called the modern Israel, shall bless the earth far more abundantly than their renowned progenitors ever did (p. 683).

The Great Escape of John Wilkes Booth, Pat Shannan

The conventional wisdom is that the assassin of President Abraham Lincoln – John Wilkes Booth – was shot in the neck and killed in a barn on the Garrett farm in Virginia just 12 days after the murder. But truth is always stranger than fiction.

In this book, longtime investigative author Pat Shannan and others detail a wealth of evidence showing how Booth actually escaped and lived a long life, and who the man in the barn really was. Once you read this book, you’ll never look at the Lincoln assassination – or American history – in the same way ever again.

Who was in on the high-level plot to kill Lincoln? Who was Lafayette Baker and what did his cryptic poem, written in the margin of a military manual, really mean? Who was John Stevenson and was his deathbed confession real or fiction? What happened to Booth’s accomplices? Who were the Knights of the Golden Circle and how did they fit into the plot? Were members of Lincoln’s own cabinet in on the assassination scheme? What about John Wilkes Booth’s last will and testament? Who was Izola D’Arcy Booth and what inside secrets did she hold? What happened to Booth’s diaries? Booth’s gold? How could the body of “Booth” have been so easily misidentified? How could all of this be kept secret for so long – and why?

From the diary of John H. Stevenson (Michael O’Laughlin) as told to Lottie Eaton. October 15, 1886: “In the spring of 1864 Wilkes had lunch with me at his Hotel in Washington City, and during this luncheon, he mentioned to me that he had been approached by a ‘high government official’ and asked to carry out an assignation for the Government. I knew at the time that Booth had carried dispatches for the Confederacy and that his loyalty (if he had any such thing to other than himself) lay with the South. I could not imagine him working for the Union unless it had possible advantages for the South or himself. He then went on to explain that a man high in the government had offered to pay him to kidnap the president of the United States. I did not know whether I believe him or not, but as he talked I realized that the idea appealed to him.”

The JFK Assassination and the Uncensored Story of the Two Oswalds, Pat Shannan

The Two Oswalds - The 21st century writers that refer to a singular Lee Harvey Oswald distort their own content and deceive their readers with antiquated data. The John F. Kennedy assassination and the people’s deception over the past half century is the classic example of disinformation, as it actually was probably the most efficiently performed coup d’etat and cover-up in world history.

At around 11:30 a.m. on Nov. 22, 1963, Julia Ann Mercer was stalled momentarily in traffic at Dealey Plaza and saw a man emerge from a car carrying a rifle case in front of the grassy knoll, just 50 yards west of the Texas Schoolbook Depository. It was driven by a man that she later identified as Jack Ruby, after his picture was plastered on TV to the world two days later. Information about “the two Oswalds,” suppressed for 50 years, is now revealed in this blockbuster book by investigative reporter Pat Shannan.

On November 20th and 22nd, while “Lee Harvey Oswald” was working at the Texas School Book Depository, he was identified by multiple witnesses at the Dobbs House Restaurant, the Top Ten Record Store in Oak Cliff and the Jiffy Store on Industrial Boulevard. He was also positively identified as being seated with Jack Ruby after midnight, some 10 hours after he was jailed on the 22nd. Moments after Officer J.D. Tippitt was shot dead, detectives conveniently found a wallet containing the ID cards of both Lee Harvey Oswald and Alek Hidell. Also found on the street were five ejected .38 caliber shell casings. When Harvey was arrested in the Texas Theater some 40 minutes later, he was carrying a .38 revolver which, of course, does not eject its shells. Harvey also at the time, astonishing to detectives, had a wallet carrying the same two ID cards.

Some books back in stock or added to catalog or price change:

The True History of The Conquest of New Spain (Mexico), Bernal Diaz del Castillo, 402pp., pb., illustrated, 25.00 + P&H.

Bernal Diaz del Castillo (1496-1584) wrote an important firsthand account of his experiences supporting several expeditions into Central America, including that of Hernan Cortes in the conquest of Mexico in 1521. It's the straightforward account of a soldier, not the dainty and carefully balanced prose of an academic or diplomat. It is thus devoid of "political correctness." This volume allows Diaz to tell his story as he would have it, and, besides his observations of the Aztec people and their temples, he describes their massive ritual sacrifices—the details of which are many times excised from modern history books.

- "Jews Must Live" \(unabridged edition\) and "Now and Forever", Samuel Roth, 369pp., pb., 27.00 + P&H.

Two unabridged books in one paperback. Samuel Roth (1893-1974) was a decades-long publisher of pornographic materials and a plaintiff in Roth v. United States (1957), a key Supreme Court ruling on freedom of sexual expression. The minority opinion of that case, regarding redeeming social value as a criterion in obscenity prosecutions, became a template for the liberalizing First Amendment decisions in the 1960s. He was sued by James Joyce, tangled with T.S. Eliot and Ezra Pound, and was involved in the Alger Hiss embroglio. Two books by Samuel Roth are presented here. Jews Must Live includes the full text and all illustrations from the original. This is in contrast to a previous 1964 edition which had only half the book. Roth's narrative forms in part a candid exposé of Jewish ritual murder. His testimony has now been given new life in this book. Also includes Roth's Now and Forever: In this strange little book—also presented in full text—Roth discusses the state of Jewry with Israel Zangwill. Zangwill was a playwright who coined the phrase "melting pot." Also included are three related essays—one by Martin Glynn and two by Marcus Eli Ravage.

- The Synagogue of Satan Updated, Expanded, and Uncensored, Andrew Hitchcock, 400pp., pb., 25.00 + P&H.

- The Host & The Parasite How Israel's Fifth Column Consumed America, Greg Felton, 550pp., pb., 30.00 + P&H.

—an extraordinarily important book that traces America's slide into fascism and subservience to a foreign power.

Felton argues persuasively that three groups have converged and come to dominate American policy for the benefit of Israel: the neoconservatives, the Republican evangelicals (Christian Zionists), and Jewish Zionists. He backs up his analysis with over 800 footnoted references to government, scholarly and media sources.

Felton refutes the traditional progressive view that Israel is merely a client state of America. If this is so, he asks, how has America come to pursue policies that are so utterly contrary to their own national interest while being so highly beneficial to its junior partner?

Felton also refutes the theory that 'it's all about oil,' arguing that the First Persian Gulf War was the last American oil war and that the Second Persian Gulf War ignored the interests of American oil companies, increased American oil costs and reduced American national security. How could this have happened? The Second War, he demonstrates, can only be adequately explained by the take-over of American foreign and domestic policy for the benefit of Israel.

Felton's book integrates a remarkable range of relevant material, including:

the decline of American republican government from Vietnam to the present;

the rise of American fascism since the Reagan years;

the rise of the pro-Israel lobby in America and its growing influence on the presidency from 1948 until now;

the subjugation of America's House and Senate by the pro-Israel lobby;

the anti-democratic philosophy of Leo Strauss and its corrosive influence on America via the neoconservative movement;

the growth and goals of the Project for a New American Century (PNAC) and other right-wing think tanks;

PNAC's search for a new 'Pearl Harbor' to permit the restructuring of America;

The Israeli foreign policy goal of dismembering Iraq to ensure Israeli regional domination;

the demonization of Islam;

the origins and rise of the religious right in America and its obsession with Israel;

the planned attack on Iran that is being pushed by Israel and its proxies in America;

the extremely gloomy prospects for America to "return to normal"

Felton is generous in his praise of others who have explored some of this material such as John Mearsheimer, Stephen Walt, Jimmy Carter and Paul Findley. Felton's book, however, is a far more comprehensive study of the subject and integrates a much fuller range of issues and data to demonstrate the self-destructive nature of American policy in our time.

For those who imagine that America's Mideast policy is motivated by "love of justice and democracy," Felton reviews America's shameful and ongoing record of supporting dictators and overthrowing democratically elected third world governments.

For those who pretend that America's Mideast policy is intended to serve America's self-interest, Felton reviews the appalling cost to America of its pro-Israel policy: thousands of dead American soldiers; trillions of dollars of debt incurred over the years due to higher oil costs and ruinous wars; the enmity of the world; and the destruction of the American system of republican government.

And what has America gained by supporting Israel? Nothing, Felton argues, that can begin to justify the appalling cost.

The book's cover makes it clear that 'Israel's Fifth column' includes secular neocon crooks like Rumsfeld and Cheney; Christian evangelical maniacs like Bush; and Jewish Zionist power players like Perle, Feith and Wolfowitz. Together, these people have torn up the American Constitution, dedicated America to endless war, bankrupted the country and endangered its security while cynically promoting the interests of a foreign power.

- Exposing the Lies of History: Deprogramming 101, Reed T. Sainsbury, 8.5" x 11", 288pp., pb., color illustrations, 40.00 + P&H.
442 B&W/color photos & images

Reed T. Sainsbury takes you on a whirlwind tour of global history, focusing on the influence Jewish personalities and secret societies have had on history. Uncensored, unabashed, unrepentant, Sainsbury offers his views on history, based upon decades of research—backed up by hundreds of quotes, photos, and 50 chapters of completely politically incorrect but historically accurate information.

Those who win the wars write the history. Our history books and media have been hijacked by wolves in sheep's clothing pretending to be in favor of world peace, but are on a mission to usher in their Luciferian communist New World Order. In 1917 they stormed into Russia and murdered the benevolent czar and implemented their communist regime, murdering millions of innocent Christians. Now these communist tyrants want to rip up our U.S. Constitution and rule the United States of America with an iron fist. This book exposes their propaganda lies and connects the missing puzzle pieces of history; the deliberately censored ones that keep the masses ignorant of the facts—the forbidden truth they don't want you to know.

Chapters cover: Zionism, the Rothschilds, the Talmud, Jewish supremacism, the Franklin prophecy, The Protocols, Israel, the U.S. Civil War, communism, World War I, World War II, the Bolshevik Revolution, the Morgenthau Plan, the little-known rape of Germany, Allied atrocities, four real holocausts, why Patton was murdered, Eisenhower's WWII death camps, the real Adolf Hitler, uncensored facts about the "Holocaust," the suppression of honest historians, false-flag attacks, the Kosher tax, the origins of the Jews, why Jesus was not a Jew, the real power behind the slave trade, the Illuminati, the French Revolution, the Noahide Laws, the 9/11 attacks, and much more.
