

O boy, I can't wait to get my MD and bring home a $200,000 / year paycheck.

But you never go to class

Count me in for that!

that's okay, I don't need to know all that stuff... when I need it I can just google it and AI will tell me everything.

then why does anyone need you, or why should you get a $200,000 / year pay-check?

Amen to that!

because that's how I "feel" and how I want to "identify" and because I "deserve" it.

and what about the $250,000 medical school bill and the 4-year $250,000 pre-med college bill?

Right on!

Well, I feel someone else should pay for it... how many years does that all add up to...?

8 years

8 years...! that is not "fair"... you're just trying to keep me down

That's right!... uh huh...!
